

Pre-Trip Inspection Observation Log

Carlos Barrios – August 14, 2025

On August 14, 2025, I conducted a Pre-Trip Inspection observation of Carlos Barrios. The observation followed CarMax's standardized inspection protocol, using the official checklist and "look-for" criteria to evaluate procedural accuracy, safety compliance, and overall inspection proficiency.

As part of the training, I provided a detailed explanation of various under-the-hood components and their functions. This hands-on coaching added depth to the observation and supported Carlos's continued growth in mechanical awareness.

Santiago Munarriz – August 19, 2025

On August 19, 2025, I conducted a Pre-Trip Inspection observation of Santiago Munarriz. Santiago followed the CarMax checklist with strong attention to safety and inspection order.

To reinforce his understanding, I invited Santiago to observe my own Pre-Trip Inspection. This session was designed to improve his confidence in identifying key engine and suspension components and solidify his grasp of the air brake testing procedure. Switching roles helped him engage more actively in the process and build stronger retention.

Benaiah Gordon – August 24, 2025

I conducted a Pre-Trip Inspection observation of Benaiah Gordon using CarMax's standardized checklist and guidelines. Benaiah executed the inspection with care and professionalism, demonstrating a strong awareness of inspection flow and safety protocols.

I also invited Benaiah to observe my own Pre-Trip Inspection as a learning tool. During that session, I emphasized the areas where he had previously shown uncertainty—such as under-hood component identification and the air brake test procedure. By having him assist and verbally confirm key steps, his understanding of the process was notably strengthened.
